WOMAN'S FRIEND!
E. Clark's
Revolving Looper Double Threaded Family
SEWING MACHINE.

EVERYBODY and his wife pronounce it the best in the world. They will stitch and Hem, Tuck and Fell, Gather and Embroider, with perfection, and are particularly adapted for family use.

They will sew all kinds of goods, from the finest to the coarsest, better than any other machine extant and many that will not succeed with excellent success all kinds of light leather work. Any person of ordinary intelligence can in an hour learn to use them successfully. These machines are warranted, and any person purchasing them can return them and get their money, if after a month's trial they do not prove satisfactory.

The following are among the advantages they possess over all other machines.

1st. They are simple, strong and durable, easily understood and managed, and not liable to get out of order.

2d. They use cotton from the ordinary spool, without rewinding, saving time, trouble and waste.

3d. The stitch is stronger and more difficult to rip than any other made by machinery, and is superior to the best hand sewing. The two threads are doubly looped into each other, and firmly tied and knotted at every stitch. The appearance of this stitch is the same as the celebrated Grover & Baker's, with the exception that the off-cut thread on the underside is entirely dispensed with, and leaves a perfectly strong, smooth, and even seam.

4th. They sew Cotton, Linen and Silk Thread equally well.

5th. They FINISH their work. There is no occasion to fasten the threads at either end of the seam, as is required by all Shuttle stitch Machines.

6th. Every machine is made to run by hand or foot power, thus combining the advantages of both methods.

Several thousand respectable families in different places in the East, West and South pronounce this the best Machine in the world for family use, which is quite sufficient to insure an examination of our Machine.

All letters of inquiry, with an extra postage stamp will insure a reply and a circular.

Price of Machine, Table, extra Needles, Tools, &c., $60. Rights sold in Louisville and State, to whom very liberal discounts will be given.

TEXAS SECEDED!

THE SOUTHERN CONGRESS!

A brief telegraphic dispatch records the fact of the secession of Texas. The ordinance passed by 154 yeas to 6 nays. It will not be submitted to a vote of the people.

Hon. HOWELL COBB was elected President of the Southern Congress.

THEATER—GREAT SUCCESS OF THE COLLEEN BAWN—REPEATED TO-NIGHT—MAGNIFICENT SCENERY—SURPRISING MECHANICAL EFFECTS.—The Colleen Bawn will be repeated to-night, and we can truly say that it is by far the most interesting and attractive drama that has been put upon the boards of the Louisville Theater for many seasons. We are truly glad to see an Irishman on the stage as he might reasonably be supposed to be in his own country—a man with a whole coat to his back. The conventional stage Irishman has been for years a creature of rags and tatters, whose sustenance was composed of potato skins and whisky, whose sole occupation seemed to be dancing a jig and knocking down his most intimate friend with a cudgel. Mr. Collins represents the Irish peasant a man of infinite jest, to be sure with the national facility for making bulls, but manly, warm-hearted, and a noble specimen of rustic humanity. The success of the drama, as far as it depends upon the character of Miles, is due to the fact that Mr. Collins' Irishman is a portrait, and not a caricature. Apart from individual truthfulness of characters, the play possesses great merit, of varied orders. It is remarkably compact, well connected, has a simple and natural plot, and all its incidents seem necessary to assist in producing the proper denouement. We hope to see the Colleen Bawn hold possession of the stage for some nights to come, as we are quite sure that it could not be replaced advantageously by anything in the shape of an Irish drama.

A THIEVING NEGRO CAUGHT AT LAST.—Late Monday night, Officer Lappi, of the Portland Police, arrested a free negro named Benson McIntosh, alias Fremont, charged with coming to the State of Kentucky contrary to an act passed by the last Legislature. In the person of the aforesaid Fremont, Officer Moore recognizes the negro who attempted to run off two negroes belonging to Mr. Richardson of this city in July, 1859, and who would have succeeded had it not been for the efficiency of Officer Moore, who overtook them on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, in Indiana, and returned them to their proper owners. Since then, Officer Moore has been on the alert for this negro, but has never been able to catch him in the State until the present time. Fremont will be before Judge Johnston this morning on two charges of felony.

THE HOLMAN PARLOR OPERA TROUPE.—We were glad to see, last evening, that the public are beginning to appreciate the Holman Parlor Opera Troupe. The little girl Sallie has wonderful dramatic talent, and more versatility than any actress on the American stage. She dances with grace and sings like a nightingale. The programme this evening and to-night is good, and should draw a large audience.—The taste of the most fastidious will be gratified in this Parlor Opera Troupe. Don't forget the evening performance for ladies and children.

A TERM OF COURT ABOLISHED.—The wishes of the community have been consulted by the Legislature in abolishing the January term of the Jefferson Circuit Court for 1861, as was done yesterday. In the main, we do not approve of special legislation, but the distress, if not indeed ruin, that might have been brought to many by selling property at public sale, under judgments obtained at this term, would have been very great. Therefore we think the Legislature has done right in passing the bill.

ENTERTAINMENT TO-NIGHT FOR THE RELIEF OF THE POOR.—Let no one who can afford it fail to attend the entertainment to-night at Masonic Temple for the benefit of the poor. The cause of human brotherhood is thus aided, and at the same time you have an entertainment with the money paid. This is cheap philanthropy, but none the less noble.

CHEAP TREES.—Messrs. Hobbs, Walker & Co., who have one of the most extensive and best stocked nurseries in the West, have a large lot of choice apple trees, which they offer at an unusually low price. Their stock of trees of every description is now very large and complete.

☞ The funeral services of the Rev. Guerdon Gates, deceased, occur this afternoon at two o'clock, at the Jefferson Street Baptist Church. The services will be under the direction of the Free Masons.

☞ The proceedings of the meeting in Livingston county, published in another column, are outspoken, to the point, and truly and genuinely Kentuckian and Southern.

MATTERS AT FRANKFORT.

Interesting Proceedings—Debate on a State Convention—Important Resolutions—A Petition for a Convention, &c., &c.

[EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FRANKFORT, Feb. 5, 1861.

The sitting of the House yesterday afternoon was the most interesting of the session.

The friends of a Convention were represented in the discussion by Dr. D. P. WHITE, W. W. CLEARY, and B. M. HITT, and the anti-Conventionists by Judge UNDERWOOD, J. S. FINN, and V. P. ARMSTRONG. Messrs. WHITE and CLEARY, though going over the whole ground in controversy, directed their remarks in good part to the speeches heretofore delivered by Messrs. WOLFE and UNDERWOOD against a Convention, and particularly to the elaborate argument of the latter; and when we say their speeches were among the strongest and most conclusive of the entire session, we pay them no unmeaning or unmerited compliment.

We shall attempt to give, in a few days, a very full abstract of the remarks of each of these gallant and loyal champions of the rights of Kentucky and her Southern sisters.

Mr. HITT strongly opposed the resolutions offered by Mr. JACOB, because, in the present alarming condition of the country, they were wholly worthless, not even rising to the dignity of the great questions of the day. He ably advocated the adoption of the Crittenden amendments as an ultimatum, saying that the Louisville Convention of January 8 indorsed them as such, yet the same parties here are backing down from that position. He portrayed the necessities of calling a State Convention, believing the best interests of the State demands it, and further, that the representatives in the Legislature would hardly dare to face their constituency and tell them they refused to allow the people to decide for themselves whether or not they desire a Convention.

He insisted that while all proper measures should be taken to effect a reconciliation, the State of Kentucky should be fully armed and prepared to meet the worst when it comes. His speech was well considered, well delivered, and favorably received, and sound in all respects "as a dollar."

Judge UNDERWOOD, who had been pretty roughly, though most respectfully, handled by Messrs. WHITE and CLEARY, made a rejoinder to their remarks explanatory of his present and past position; but his experience and conceded ability could neither ward off nor resist the well directed and vigorous blows of his younger and less experienced, though scarcely less able, opponents.

Mr. FINN got the floor and got off a very good speech with which he had been pregnant for the space of nine days, in favor of his resolutions, which, of course, he will either withdraw or vote against, when they come before the House.

Mr. ARMSTRONG closed the disension with a motion that the committee rise and report the propositions under consideration back to the House, which was decided in the affirmative.

This morning a motion to reconsider the vote by which the "Highland Coal Company" bill was rejected was defeated.

The following resolution, offered some time since, by Mr. GUNNAWAY, was then taken up:

Resolved, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That while Kentucky is devoted to the Union of these States, both North and South, and does not intend doing anything to complicate or aggravate the disturbances that now hover over this Union; but, on the contrary, intend doing every and exhausting every possible means of bringing about an amicable adjustment of difficulties; but if all the remedies fail, we most solemnly declare that our interests, our sympathies, and our hearts, are with the Southern States.

Mr. GOODLOE offered the resolutions on Federal Relations adopted on Saturday by the Senate as a substitute for the resolution under consideration.

Mr. CLEARY offered as a substitute for the substitute, a series of resolutions providing for the call of a State Convention, the question of "Convention" or "No Convention," with the election of delegates, to be submitted to the people on the 22d of February, and the Convention to assemble in Frankfort on the 3d of March, the action of such Convention to be submitted to the people.

Mr. CLEVELAND offered as an amendment to the substitute offered by Mr. GOODLOE, a proposition appointing certain members of the General Assembly Commissioners to proceed to the authorities of the several States, except California and Oregon, to endeavor to bring about an adjustment on the basis of Crittenden's proposition.

The vote was taken, under a call for the previous question, on CLEVELAND'S amendment, which was rejected—ayes 39, noes 65.

On the adoption of Mr. CLEARY'S substitute for the resolutions embraced in the substitute offered by Mr. GOODLOE for the original resolution, the vote was ayes 38, noes 58.

Mr. GOODLOE'S substitute was adopted, ayes 49, noes 47.

The question then being on the passage of the substitute, a division was called for, and the three following resolutions received a unanimous vote:

1. Resolved, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the people of Kentucky view with the most lively apprehension the dangers that now environ the Union and threaten its perpetuity.

2. Resolved, That we appeal to our Southern brethren to stay the work of revolution; to return and make one mighty effort to perpetuate the noble work of our forefathers, hallowed by the recollections of a thousand noble deeds.

3. Resolved, That we protest against the use of force or coercion by the General Government against the seceding States as unwise and inexpedient, and tending to the destruction of our common country.

The fourth resolution was passed by a vote of ayes 54, noes 40. It is as follows:

4. Resolved, That as this General Assembly has made an application to Congress to call a National Convention to amend the Constitution of the United States, and requested the Legislatures of all the other States to make similar applications, and has appointed Commissioners to meet those which have been appointed by the State of Virginia, and such as may be appointed by other States, at a designated time and place, to consider, and if practicable, agree upon some suitable adjustment of the present unhappy controversies, it is unnecessary and inexpedient for this Legislature to take any further action on this subject at the present time. And as evidence of the sincerity and good faith of our propositions for an adjustment, and no expression of devotion to the Union, and desire for its preservation, Kentucky abounding with deep solicitude the response from her sister States.

The fifth resolution was rejected; ayes 44, nays 51. It reads as follows:

5. Resolved, That this General Assembly will, when it adjourns on the 4th day of February next, at twelve o'clock, M., it will adjourn to meet again at this place on the fourth Wednesday in April next, to take into consideration the responses of our sister States, and the then condition of the nation, and to adopt such measures as may be proper and the interests of Kentucky may require.

Pending a point of order raised on the question who ther the vote on the last series of resolutions might be taken separately or not, at that stage of the proceedings, Mr. GOODLOE, for his political friends, having appealed from the decision of the Chair, in a speech on his appeal indicated the earnestness of the wish of the anti-Conventionists to force members to vote in favor of objectionable and even indefensible resolutions, or in voting against such to also vote down others which are approved—of their desire to force resolutions through the House by tying them to measures which all wish to favor, that could not stand on their own merits—to smuggle, in fact, objectionable and injurious propositions through the House under the protecting wing of others which the public good require should be favorably considered. Whether such tactics will meet the approbation of the people, who admire frankness and fair dealing, remains to be seen, if, indeed, there be a doubt on the subject.

The appeal was withdrawn, and the vote proceeded with the result above mentioned.

The following is a copy of a petition sent to Mr. HITT for presentation to the House.

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. We, the undersigned, your humble petitioners, of Trimble county, in view of the present alarming crisis in our beloved country, pray your honorable body to pass immediately an act calling a State Convention to meet at the earliest practicable moment, for the purpose of adopting such means as are necessary to secure our rights, honor, and liberty under any and all circumstances.

It is signed by D. S. Lane, W. H. Gatewood, R. D. Morris, W. F. Peak, Silas Gatewood, and two hundred other citizens of Trimble county, and affords a fair indication of the feeling of that county.

A Card from Gen. Geo. Bickley.

The following card is from Gen. BICKLEY, President of the famous "K. G. C." organization, who is at present sojourning in this city:

K. G. C.

Editors Louisville Courier: A card dated Sherman, Texas, Jan 24th, and signed "North Texan," published in the Louisville Journal of the 5th, demands an answer at my hands. The "North Texan" has suddenly discovered that the K. G. C. was not intended to effect the peaceable colonization of Mexico, but to overturn the United States Government, and that, therefore, he has concluded to perjure himself by misrepresenting the order. In connection with what I wish to say to this renegade Texan, I beg also to reply to the Louisville Journal, which published an incendiary article some weeks ago, in which the K. G. C. organization was grossly misrepresented.

I deny, and will undertake to prove by the exposition of our documents, that the K. G. C. has any affiliation with any political party. I deny that I ever made a disunion speech in my life, (but do not promise I never will). I did canvass Texas in the fall, but not on political grounds. I refer him and the public to the following named gentleman to sustain my declaration: Gov. Sam. Houston, Lieut. Gov. Clarke, Thos. Lubbock, John B. Lubbock, Ex-Gov. F. S. Lubbock, Col. B. Shropshire, Capt. W. Edwards, Gen. Chappell, Samuel Mather, Esq., Judge Oehlitree, and many other prominent citizens of Texas, well known to the great public.

If to stand up and plead for the constitutional rights of the South; if to assert that the white man is better than the negro; if to say this Continent belongs to the Anglo Saxon race, and to open up new avenues to the honest and sober working man, is an attempt to overthrow the United States Government, then I am very guilty.

The K. G. C. sprang from Kentucky soil in 1854—it has adhered to one object, and will succeed, in defiance of all the misrepresentation that may be heaped on it. It is an institution, even in Louisville, and will be the very first to respond when a call is made for defenders of the State. It has tendered 12,000 troops to South Carolina, and will give her 50,000 if she needs them; and it can give the Federal Government 135,000 to fight a foreign foe, but not one to fight a Southern State.

Now, sirs, I hope I shall be clearly understood. We look only to the Americanization of Mexico; yet the defense of our own homes has paramount duty. If ever there has been a movement set on foot to settle forever the slavery question and balance the political powers of the North and South, and thereby perpetuate the Union, the K. G. C. has made the movement.

Respectfully,
GEO. BICKLEY, K. G. C.,
President Am. Legion.

THE COTTON INTEREST.—We learn from the International Cotton Plant, published at Macon, Ga., that there will be held at Atlanta, on the 12th of February, a Convention of those interested in the development of the cotton spinning industry of the South. The object of the Convention is to organize an association of all the friends of this interest in order to secure concert of action. This proposed concert of action looks to a grand enterprise. It is nothing less than the introduction of Southern-spun cotton yarns into the markets of France, Spain, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany, and Russia.

THE MISSION OF THE BROOKLYN.—We see in the correspondence between Ex-President Tyler and President Buchanan, the latter states that the Brooklyn was on a mission of "mercy and relief, in no wise connected with South Carolina." This disposes of the rumor that Fort Sumter was re-inforced.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.—The Committee on Finance in the United States Senate has reported back, with recommendations that it pass, Judge Collamer's bill for discontinuing ports of entry in seceding States where the collection of revenue has been, or may be, interfered with.

For 10 Days Only—COMMENCING MONDAY, FEB. 4, 1861.—We shall sell all our goods at prime cost, in order to make room for Spring goods. This offers the greatest inducements to purchasers of dry goods to lay in their stock of linens, diapers, domestic goods, silks, shawls, embroideries and French ucrimes, dress goods, etc,

Letter from Hon. Jere. Clemens, of Alabama.

The following letter from Hon. Jere. Clemens, of Alabama, to Colonel Blanton Duncan, of this city, has been handed us. It shows unmistakably the feelings of the Alabamians:

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 1, 1861.

MY DEAR SIR: While in Montgomery, I read a letter of yours in the Louisville Courier, for which you must allow me to return my earnest thanks.

Like you, I have been a Union man. Like you, I have for ten years battled for its preservation. When one act of aggression after another came to warn me that a period was approaching when it could no longer be preserved consistently with Southern honor and independence, I have closed my ears to the warning and obstinately driven away the unwelcome conviction. Up to the last moment I resisted the secession of Alabama with all the energy and ability I could command. The feelings which governed me were shared by my constituents, and nowhere was the first news of the passage of the ordinance received with more bitter denunciations than in this my native county. Throughout the whole of North Alabama there was a like state of feeling. A large part of our population are Kentuckians and Tennesseans, or their descendants. The two living statesmen whom all of us were taught in infancy to look up to with the deepest reverence and the warmest affection were Henry Clay and Andrew Jackson. Differing as these great men did upon many points of public policy, they were alike enthusiastically devoted to the Union of the North American States; and it thus happened that whatever party claimed our allegiance, the one sentiment, that the Union must be preserved, was a predominant in the minds of all. It was not to be expected that such a people would submit without a murmur to an act which disrobed forever this cherished dream. They did murmur, and even now the flush of indignant anger has not entirely disappeared from their cheeks. But if the enemies of the South derive comfort from this fact, they will be woefully deceived. There is not upon the earth's surface a population more loyal to the State in which they live, nor one which can be relied upon with more absolute certainty to defend the integrity of its soil against every odds which can be brought to bear upon them.—The very fidelity with which they clung to the old banner as long as they had a right to throw it to the breeze, is the highest proof of the stubborn courage with which they will defend the new one which has taken its place. Rely upon it, that whatever evils disunion may bring, there is no danger that it will breed discord and dis-esteem at home. Recent developments at the North have opened our eyes to a great fact to which we have been willfully blind. Heretofore we have been accustomed to believe that fanaticism was confined to a few—that the masses of the Northern people were free from personal animosity towards us, and that even the politicians were only using the slavery question as a hobby to obtain power, and the consequent control of Federal patronage, without any serious intention of interfering with our rights of property. The election of Lincoln, and the overwhelming defeat of such conservative statesmen as Bell and Douglas did not entirely dispel the delusion.—There was still a lingering hope that existing causes of dissatisfaction would be removed, and that we should march on in the pathway of nations united, prosperous and happy. But the secession of South Carolina was a touchstone too severe for the patriotism of the North. When that impetuous and sensitive, but chivalrous and high-toned people adopted their ordinance, if they had been met in a spirit of kindly forbearance—if instead of threats of coercion they had been treated to offers of concessions and guarantees such as would have been alike honorable and glorious when tendered by the strong to the weak—if the compromise offered by your venerable statesman, Mr. Crittenden, had been promptly accepted, a settlement might even then have been effected—not another State would have followed the example of South Carolina, and that single wanderer would have been again gathered beneath the protecting folds of the national banner.

Concession and conciliation was the obvious policy, as it ought to have been the natural impulse of men of kindred blood, who looked back to a common history and forward to a common destiny; but the idea of concession and conciliation has not yet penetrated the Northern mind. Submission without terms, or death by the latter, are the only alternatives which have up to this hour been presented to us. With a people whose minds and judgments are so perverted, and whose affections are so little to be relied upon, a further union is impossible. Slowly and reluctantly this conviction has been allowed to grow up within me. No one ever clung to the Union more tenaciously than I did, but the Union of my affections was one of love, not of fear, and when the alternative is presented to me of unconditional submission to a hostile faction, or death upon the gibbet, I feel an irresistible impulse to answer that there is yet a

The COURIER office has been removed to the new buildings erected especially for our use, on the south side of Green street, below Third, next to the Custom House and Post Office.

Facts vs. Theories.

Our people are eminently practical. They deal in facts rather than theories. They are decidedly utilitarian in their ideas, habits, and customs.

Not yet degenerated from the standard of physical, moral, and mental excellence of the men of the last century, they treat life as a reality, and meet the difficulties they must needs encounter with the courage of real heroes and a spirit that knows no such word as fail. They are not afraid to look danger in the face, and never shrink from the performance of a duty merely because its discharge may be attended with unpleasant consequences.

So they approach the solution of the troublesome questions now agitating the country. The principles involved in those questions have been fully discussed and are well understood. But those principles are not mere abstractions; they are living, vital propositions from which must flow happiness or misery to millions.

It is a fact that the great body of the Northern people believe slavery is wrong, and are determined to drive it from the nation.

It is a fact, that those believing and feeling thus have been in a majority in a number of the States of the Union for several years; and that having the power in these States, they have in every manner possible interfered with the rights and interests of the Slaveholding States and of their citizens.

It is a fact, that the people of such States, not satisfied with the indirect attacks on slavery which would not have been in conflict with the letter of the Constitution, have openly, frequently, and persistently violated the plainest provisions of that instrument to accomplish their purposes.

It is a fact, that the party representing this principle of hostility to slavery, have at length obtained such political power as to secure the possession of the Federal Government, which they are pledged to use, not to protect, but to destroy the property of a large portion of the people.

It is a fact, that this party has, through the medium of the State Governments, committed many and grievous wrongs on the people of the South, and are determined and committed, through the Federal Government, to repeat these wrongs on a larger scale, and to secure their objects by the usurpation of powers that must destroy the liberties of the people.

It is a fact, that, in consequence of the facts above stated, and others of a similar character, not enumerated, a number of the States in the Union have become convinced that they cannot maintain their liberties, retain their independence, or protect the rights of their citizens in the Union, and have solemnly and formally withdrawn from the Confederacy, and proclaimed themselves free and independent States.

It is a fact, that several other States have indicated unmistakably their intention to follow the example already set by Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Florida, and Georgia, in seceding from the Union.

It is a serious and solemn fact, that civil war is threatened, and appears now inevitable, growing out of the causes to which we have referred.

It is a fact, that, if civil strife and long and bloody war follow in the train of the mighty events now on us, Kentucky cannot, by any possibility, escape being involved—that she must fight, either for the North against the South, or with the South against the North: this is inevitable.

These are a few of the facts now pressing themselves on the attention of the people of this State particularly—facts which are certified to by every telegraphic dispatch, and proved by the concurrent testimony of every witness whose voice is heard by the public.

These are facts which every American citizen must deplore: but they are facts which no American citizen can on his honor and his conscience deny.

It becomes the people of Kentucky to think of them and prepare to meet the issues arising from them, whether of peace or war.

Theories of government, political principles, constitutional constitutions, however plausible or sound they may be, will not now avail.

Learned lawyers, grave and careworn statesmen, aged and venerable patriots may demonstrate the unsoundness of the doctrine of secession, and prove the duty of maintaining the Union by force, if errors so serious admit of such a result, but

A similar coalition will be attempted to elect a Douglas candidate of Northern bias U. S. Senator, while a portion of opposition nag Partridge and Douglas members are negotiating to combine on some Southern Douglas Democrat.

The Governor's message was delivered on the 18th. The principal feature was the strong grounds taken in favor of preserving the Union, and opposition to a Pacific Republic under any circumstances. He urges the petitioning of Congress to alter the eastern boundery of California, so as to take in the Washoe silver region. The receipts of the State Treasury during the past year exceeded expenditures by $86,000.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER

Relative to BRANDRETH'S PILLS demands the attention from INVALIDS:

HAMMONTON, N. J., May 7, 1860.

DR. BRANDRETH—Dear Sir—I have long wanted to write to you and express my gratitude for the beneficial effects that have been experienced in my own family, and in hundreds, aye, thousands of others, by the use of Brandreth's Pills. The first year my friend Brockway sold your pills in Boston, 1838, I was then in a declining state of health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. Mr. Brock way urged me to take the Brandreth's Pills, but having used so much medicine with no good effect, I was more inclined to let nature take its course, and calmly submit to my fate. Mr. B. offered to give me one dozen boxes if I would take them as prescribed. I gratified him as he had great faith in them, and I finally consented to take them, but not as a gift. I went home, and went at it most hopelessly. After taking one box I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up my twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 121 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and have been about ever since. At present I retailed three thousand dollars worth of these invaluable Pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving, not hundreds, but thousands of lives.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by J. B. WILDER & CO., Main street, and RAYMOND & TYLER, Fourth street, Louisville, Ky., and by all respectable dealers in medicines. jan20 dlm4t

THE RIVER was rising rather fast last evening, with seven feet eight inches water in the canal by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had risen seven inches at the head of the Falls and twenty inches at Portland, making five feet eight inches in the Pass on the Falls. The weather has turned clear and quite pleasant for the season of the year.

At Pittsburg, at noon yesterday, there were nine feet water in the channel; a good stage, and no doubt a full coal boat tide in that quarter, as the river was then falling. On the day previous it was rising, with ten feet water in the channel.

The Kanawha, and no doubt all the upper tributaries, are rising, with twelve feet water in the Kanawha yesterday.

At Cincinnati, at noon yesterday, the river was rising with twenty-six feet water in the channel.

The Emma, a Missouri river side-wheel boat, arrived from New Orleans yesterday with a heavy cargo of groceries for Cincinnati. Being rather too big for the canal locks, she has laid up at Shippingport to await a rise, to ascend the Falls, or a chance to reship.

The Atlantic cleared for New Orleans last evening with a very fine trip of passengers, and as much stock and freight as she could stow away. Among the passengers on the Atlantic was the Rev. Mr. Humphrey, who journeys South for his health.

The E. H. Fairchild started to New Orleans last evening with a fair trip, including pork, stock, and some two hundred casks of lucose.

The Cumberland at Nashville is rising again, with eight feet water reported on the Shoals, Monday. The Anglo Saxon and Nashville had arrived at that port from the Ohio, and the Commercial departed.

☞The Grey Eagle, Capt. Daniels, is due from New Orleans to-day. She passed Paducah early on Monday, and is advertised to return to New Orleans this evening.

☞The Diana did not leave New Orleans until last evening (Tuesday) instead of Monday. She laid over, and has a good trip.

☞The Louisville, the new clipper in charge of Capt. W. R. Holleroft, starts to New Orleans on her first trip next Tuesday, the 12th inst.

☞The Moses McLellan, an old favorite in the trade, is in port advertised for Memphis, Saturday. Capt. Knight designs her permanently for the trade, and our contemporaries young friend Lewis Sherley has charge of the clerk's office.

☞The J. W. Hallman, from Pittsburg, on her way South, was due last evening.

FOR NEW ORLEANS.—The splendid passenger packet B. J. Adams, in charge of Capt. Richey, an experienced boatman, takes her departure for New Orleans this afternoon. She starts at 2 o'clock from Portland, and passengers will find her a comfortable, well furnished, and bountifully supplied boat. She was built expressly for the Southern trade, and should be, as she well deserves, a favorite in the South. The clerk, Henry McDougal, is one of the most thorough go-ahead, active, popular, and attentive clerks on the river, and pays particular attention to passengers.

☞It will be seen by the following that the inspectors have extended the license of a pilot in the lower river to Cincinnati:

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky, }
INSPECTORS' OFFICE, Feb. 5, 1861. }

Theodore Underwood, Pilot, has this day had his license extended to Cincinnati, Ohio.

JOSEPH SWAGART, { Local Inspectors.
CHARLTON DAWSON. }

FOR MEMPHIS.—The staunch Louisville packet Bracelet, Capt. B. L. Duncan, having been detained, takes her departure to Memphis and all way places this evening. She starts at 4 o'clock, from the city wharf, and being regularly engaged in the trade should receive all possible encouragement from our shippers. Passengers for any point along the Lower Ohio, or to Memphis, will find her a comfortable boat and Capt. Duncan a clever boatman.

☞The Neptune, from Memphis yesterday morning, with a big load of cotton, while coming out of the canal, sheered on the pilot and run out on the rocks just above the mouth of the canal. She was worked off safe to the eveulug.

☞Henry McDougal, clerk of the B. J. Adams, has our thanks for an interesting memorandum of river news. The enthusiasm of said memorandum bore the proud ensignia of the independent State of Louisiana in the center of the effulgence of a blazing star of magnitude, surrounded by five other stars, the group symbolical of the six United States of the southern Confederacy.

☞The Jacob Strader, the low pressure, is the mail and passenger packet for Cincinnati and the East at noon to-day.

☞The Henderson packet this evening is the musical Grey Eagle. She starts from the Portland wharf, in charge of Capt. Donnelly, and connects at Evansville with the Green river and Cumberland packets.

☞The light-winged Dove is the peaceful passenger to-day for all points along the Kentucky river, as far as Frankfort.

☞Capt. Ballard, yesterday, went up the river for the new packet Eugene for the Henderson trade. She will be here in time to take her place Friday.

☞The Diligent, Capt. Cobb, having been placed in repair, starts to Troy and all way places to-morrow. See her card.

☞The Silver Moon, bound from Cincinnati for Memphis, Friday night, near Evansville, broke her larboard water wheel shaft and cylinder. She will complete the trip, and return to Cincinnati on one wheel, and the Lady Pike take her place.

☞The Diamond and Cambridge have been dropped to the lauding at Cincinnati, for a trip somewhere.

☞The Magenta is due from New Orleans, passed Memphis Monday.

MEMORANDA.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, }
TUESDAY EVEN'G, Feb. 5, 1861. }

In financial circles we have no change of importance to notice. The demand continues about equal to the supply, and in all cases where first class paper was offered it met with a ready supply. Uncurrent money is quiet, with but little offering, and we have no change to note in quotations. Exchange remains the same as yesterday.

The general market is rather quiet to-day, with but a small amount of business doing. Flour was dull, and prices, if anything, were rather lower, with some disposition manifested on the part of holders to realize. The sales to-day were fair at $4 50@$5 50 for superfine to fancy family brands. Wheat is firm, with a small demand, though it was as large as the receipts. The sales to-day were made at $1@$1 10 for prime red to choice white. The better qualities are in demand, and will readily sell at our quotations. The demand for corn was only moderate, with small sales at yesterday's quotations. Oats are quiet and unchanged. Whisky quiet at 14@14½c.

Groceries firm, with a good demand for home consumption.

The provision market continues weak, with a strong disposition manifested on the part of sellers to realize at the present quotations. Buyers are contending for a still further decline, but sellers will admit of no further decline. We quote the market dull and drooping at $17 25. Bacon was quiet, but firm, at 7¾c for shoulders, 10c for rib, 10¾c for clear rib, and 11c for clear sides. The demand for bacon takes it away about as fast as made, so the market remains firm. Bulk meats are quiet and unchanged. There is nothing doing in lard.

Baltimore Coffee Market.

The American of Saturday afternoon says:

COFFEE—We have no movement to note in coffee to-day, but for a correct statement of the market for the past week, we would beg to refer our readers to the circular of Messrs. White & Elder, to be found below:

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Seizure of the New Orleans Custom House!

SECESSION OF TEXAS!

THE SOUTHERN CONGRESS!!

Hon. Howell Cobb, President!

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—The Custom House was opened yesterday under the Government of Louisiana.

A rumor reached this city last night that the Convention in Texas passed the Ordinance of Secession by 134 to 6. The sentiment of uniting Texas in a Southern Confederacy is represented to be largely in the ascendant.

The Southern Congress.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Feb. 4.—The Convention met at noon. B. W. Barnwell was chosen temporary chairman. An impressive prayer was offered by Rev. Basil Manley.

On motion of R. R. Rhett, Howell Cobb was selected for permanent President by acclamation, and Johnson J. Hooper, Secretary.

All the delegates were present except Mr. Morton, of Florida.

After preliminary business was attended to, the Convention adjourned until to-morrow.

Texas Legislature.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 29.—The Governor sent a message to the Texas Legislature condemning the New York resolutions tendering men and money to the Federal movernment to coerce the South. He expressed the hope that the people of Texas would act as a unit in defense of their rights.

A resolution to submit the Secession Ordinance to the people was lost.

The House pass a bill establishing patrols throughout the State.

XXXVITH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

Tuesday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—SENATE.—Mr. FITCH, from the Committee on Printing, reported a resolution for printing 25,000 of the mechanical reports of patents, &c.

Mr. WADE presented a petition earnestly requesting Congress to stand firmly by the Constitution and the enforcement of the laws.

Mr. TEN EYCK presented several petitions of the same character.

Mr. DIXON presented a petition from over ten thousand citizens of Connecticut, without distinction of party, in favor of the passage of the Border State resolutions.

Mr. BIGLER presented petitions in favor of the passage of the Crittenden resolutions.

Mr. CAMERON presented petitions in favor of standing by the Constitution.

Mr. WIGFALL offered a resolution inquiring of the President where troops were concentrated in this District.

Mr. PEARCE advocated the bill, which then passed.

The President's Message came up.

Mr. JOHNSON, of Tennessee, made a speech supporting his former position against secession, and defending himself from the attack made in consequence of his saying he had struck treason a blow, and the arms conquered in it long trailers felt the blow. He said the grief yesterday in the Senate was well played, and was got up to order, but whether the anxious mourners were well prepared for the occasion, he could not say. He then reviewed the different points of Mr. Benjamin's speech.

He said the United States bought Louisiana and paid for her, and then we admitted her into the Union. He asked if there was any wrong or oppression then? Was there any wrong at the battle of New Orleans, when Kentucky, who, thank God, did stand firm to-day, and Tennessee, who he knew would stand with her, went out to help and save the city from Lord Packenham? Is the protection to sugar another wrong?—Mr. Johnson continued at some length with great earnestness, saying the ground that Louisiana had no right to defend the Union or to take possession of the public property without the consent of the rest. There is no need of going beyond the Constitution to discover what is treason, and treason ought to be crushed North and South, and traitors should meet with traitors' reward.

Mr. JOHNSON gave way to a motion to adjourn.

A message was received from the President transmitting from the Governor of Kentucky resolutions applying to Congress to call a Convention to present amendments to the Constitution. The President says it afforded him great pleasure to perform this duty. He felt confident that Congress would act with the careful consideration to which the resolutions are entitled, on account of the patriotic source, as well as the great importance of the subject.

Laid on the table. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. TAYLOR sent to the Clerk the Louisiana secession ordinance, which was read. He said the act which it was his purpose to perform in withdrawing from this assembly, in obedience to the will of the people of his State, was one of an ordinary occurrence. The spectacle was now exhibited of seeing the Representatives of the States, delegation after delegation, withdrawing from Congress, from the legislative assembly of the country, destined, under Providence, to be the greatest the world had ever seen. We are now witnessing the dissolution of a mighty form of government, and the secession of State after State from the Union. Differences of opinion have caused these results, owing to a change in the relative condition of the two sections. A number of Southern States have arrived at the conclusion that they can no longer remain members of this Union unless changes be made in the constitutional law, and the Constitution be restored to its own original spirit.

Mr. TAYLOR, of Louisiana, argued against coercive measures, and said the manufacturers were dependent on the south for cotton, and it was for the interest of trade, that, if a separation took place, it should be peaceable.

Mr. SICKLES asked if he did not consider war already inaugurated by the seizure of the United States Mint and other property by Louisiana? and if the protective measures adopted by the Government were not essential to the honor and rights of the country?

Mr. TAYLOR replied that it was the duty of Louisiana to protect herself by taking possession of the forts, &c.

Mr. SPINNER rose to a point of order. The gentleman was not a member of the House.

Mr. JOHN COCHRANE hoped the gentleman now taking his farewell would not be interrupted.

Mr. TAYLOR repeated that on the first attack on the South, the white people there would arm to the rescue, including Virginia, North Carolina, and Tennessee, and civil war would be the result. He then bade the House farewell.

Mr. BOULIGNY, of Louisiana, made an explanation that he had not received official notice of the passage of the ordinance of secession in Louisiana. He was not elected by the Convention and should not be governed by their action. He was the only member elected as an American Union man, and to this principle he should stand forever. When I came here I took the oath to maintain the Constitution of the United States. Does that permit Louisiana to Secede? By that oath I shall stand. Whenever my immediate constituents demand me to withdraw from this House, their wishes shall be complied with. I shall, however, not only withdraw, but resign my seat; but before I do so I shall continue to be a Union man, and stand under the flag of the country that gave me birth. [Long applause on the floor and galleries.]

The Deficiency bill was taken up. The Senate's Chirigui amendment was lost. The amendment for a public printing office was agreed to.

The resolution for the recovery of certain Indian Trust bonds was referred to the Select Committee.

The bill suspending postal service in the States where it was obstructed was taken up.

Mr. BRANCH, of North Carolina, opposed it on the ground that such action would indicate the acknowledgment of the independence of the seceding States.

Mr. SICKLES advocated the bill as there was no power to prevent the mails from robbery.

During Mr. Sickles remarks the morning hour expired, and the report of the Committee of Thirty-three was taken up.

Mr. HUGHES advocated the Crittenden resolutions.

The House passed a resolution to the same effect as the one offered by Mr. McClernand yesterday.

A recess was taken.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. LOGAN, of Ill., opposed coercion. He regarded the revolution as accomplished, and counseled concessions and compromise.

Mr. TAPPAN, of N. H., addressed the House, advocating the principles of the Republicans as being conservative, and under which the whole country could exist in peace for centuries.

Virginia Legislature.

RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 4.—The Senate voted to-day to send back the Minnesota resolutions.

It was to-day adopted that in the opinion of the General Assembly that there are no present grounds for the belief that the citizens of Virginia meditate an attack on any Federal property, or invasion of the District of Columbia, and all preparations for defense are unnecessary so far as this State is concerned.

From Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 5.—Nothing is transpiring here to-day. The reported reinforcement of Sumter is false.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The steam frigates Colorado, Mississippi, and Minnesota, now at Boston, and the Roanoke, now at Brooklyn, are at once to be put in requisition for service connected with the collecting of the revenue at certain ports where the same cannot be collected by the usual means.

Wigfall and others have telegrapped to Montgomery urging the appointment of Alexander H. Stephens as provisional President of the Southern Confederacy in order to conciliate the Southern conservatives.

The nomination of Judge Pettit for Judge of the District of Kansas has been determined upon.

Secretary of State Black will probably soon be nominated as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court in place of Justice Daniel, deceased.

From Boston.

BOSTON, February 5.—The House passed resolutions to send Commissioners to Washington this afternoon.

Governor Andrew has appointed John Z. Goodrich, Charles Allen, George S. Boutwell, J. M. Forbes, F. B. Crowninshield, F. P. Chandler, and R. P. Walters.

The meeting at Faneuil Hall to-day and evening was large and enthusiastic, and hundreds were unable to obtain admittance. B. R. Curtis and J. L. Stevenson were the principal speakers. A letter was read from Mr. Everett stating that Congress was unable to heal the breach, as the members were bound by party ties, and the only alternative was Union or a bloody strife. The letter concludes thus: Let the cry ring out from Faneuil Hall, "The Union, it must and shall be preserved." Resolutions of attachment to the Union were adopted, approving the recent speeches of Seward and Adams, appealing to Virginia and the other Border States to remain faithful to the call of patriotic duty; conceding the equal rights of all the States in the common Territory, and approving of a compromise on the basis of the Crittenden resolutions.

From Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 5.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held last evening irrespective of party, expressing strong attachment to the Union, disavowing any intention of interfering with the local institutions of the South, and recommending a modification of the Personal Liberty Laws. The Postmaster of this city has been removed on account of some discrepancy in his accounts. D. M. Bull, the special agent of the department has assumed the duties of the office for the present.

The Anderson Case.

TORONTO, C. W., Jan. 5.—In the Anderson case, precedence has been given to the Canadian over the English writ of habeas corpus. The case will be argued on Friday before the Court of Common Pleas.

At six in the morning of the above date, the President's house was surrounded by soldiers, commanded by Captain Enrique Lara. Some civilians, also, accompanied the party.

The guard at the door was shot dead and the conspirators made their way to the President's bedroom. He was fired at, but somehow unwounded. In the struggle the President's guards then rallied, and six persons fell in the brief fight that followed. The chief conspirator, Lara, made his escape, and under the orders of Colonel Arguedas, who lives opposite to the President's house, the soldiers who had been led against the President quietly shut their own officers and a civilian who had accompanied them.

Public Meeting in Livingston County.

The citizens of Livingston county, pursuant to a call for a meeting, met, January 26, 1861, at Carrville, to consider the State of the Union, and, on motion, J. N. Hodge was called to the Chair and H. Briggs appointed Secretary. The object of the meeting being stated by Mr. Theodore Thompson, it was motioned that a committee of seven be appointed to draft resolutions, when the following persons were selected: J. C. Barnett, A. J. Fleming, R. L. Threlkeld, Esq., Theodore Thompson, W. T. Paden, M. M. Jeffries, and J. P. Bruster, Esq. They retired, and, after a short time, reported the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, A crisis has at length arrived when acquiescence in the existing condition of things ceases to be loyal and patriotic, and sound conservatism demands a revision of the constitutional relations of Kentucky
